From the desk of the Garrison Commander

I want to publicly say thanks to all the wonderful volunteers who braved the weather and really Made a Difference for Make a Difference Day Oct. 24!! You all were great! It was just amazing and so encouraging to see the work that was accomplished on such a dismal day but as one soldier related to me, 'the rain was good 'cause you had to work then. No one wants to just stand there and get wet.' Well said -- and the work was indeed done extremely well.

Col. Peter Dausen, U.S. Army, Garrison Commander

One family took it upon themselves to clean up the entire Freeman stadium and what a fantastic job; it looks great! Some folks came from as far away as Prunedale to volunteer and help out. Folks tell me that Monterey Road leading up to the Stilwell Community Center hasn't looked this good for years! And what was so terrific was that it was a total community effort, Seaside, Marina, churches, Boys and Girls club, residents of the POM Annex, and soldiers, sailors, airmen, and Marines all came together to do the job.

Theresa Matthews deserves a tremendous round of applause for her efforts in single-handedly coordinating such a great effort. She will tell you that she had a lot of help, and there was a lot of help but ask anyone who coordinated this great effort, and they will tell you that it was Theresa Matthews. She even marched up to Mayor Jordan's office and enlisted his support! What a difference motivated people can make!

We will be having a meeting this week to improve upon this great effort (we can always do better) and figure out how we can have a Making a Difference Day II in the spring. We will ensure that the date is announced well in advance so you can mark it on your calendars. Make your commitment now to Make a Difference again!!

Thanks for listening.

Volunteers Clean Up

Presidio, POM Annex, Asilomar Beach

Nearly 300 volunteered inspite of rain

By Bob Britton

Rainy weather didn't deter volunteers from a cleanup party sponsored by Army Community Service and the city of Seaside. Approximately 300 Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center and civilian volunteers helped clean up the Presidio of Monterey, the POM Annex and Asilomar State Beach Oct. 24. This was part of the Make a Difference cleanup day phase of the National Points of Light volunteerism effort.

"I was pleased with the teamwork between Seaside and the Presidio of Monterey," said Kevin Moore, Army Community Service director. "It was good to see the support from the single service members and DOD civilians. The youths demonstrated individual potential including self-reliance and self-competence in support of volunteering their time to make the difference in their community."

POM Annex projects originated from the Mayoral Program Town Hall meeting held Aug. 4. Residents suggested trimming overgrown grass and weeds and picking up trash along both ends of Monterey Road. Afterward, Theresa Matthews, the ACS installation volunteer coordinator, got together with June Flores, volunteer coordinator for Seaside's Cultural and Leisure Service Department, and the two worked out the planning details for the cleanup effort.

"I felt a little discouraged about the rainy forecast until I drove up to the POM Annex project site and saw about 75 volunteers ready to get started at 7:30 a.m.," said Matthews. "The Directorate of Logistics Lawn Care Center and the Seaside Community Action Team provided hand tools, rakes, shovels, weedeaters, trash bags, vests and gloves. Then the rains came, but carloads of volunteers continued to arrive. Everyone wanted to work regardless of the rain."

Volunteers picked up trash at all three places, trimmed shrubbery and weeds, and painted some boarded up houses on the Annex. At the Annex, people spruced up both ends of Monterey Road and some vacant houses near the post exchange and commissary areas. Rain didn't deter a soldier and his wife from picking up trash around the sports stadium. Some sailors from the Naval Security Group Detachment picked up trash along the sides of Highway 1 between Seaside and the POM Annex Main Gate.

"Just the fact of having so many people show up to contribute to the event in any way they could, made a difference in itself," said Valerie Woods, ACS relocation manager. "People were in good spirits, willing to do whatever suggested. There was a sense of community, a sense of being able to make a difference, and being able to see the results of their labors, inspired a sense of accomplishment and pride."

Annex volunteers included DLIFLC students and staff, military family members; soldiers from Headquarters, 3rd Brigade (Golden Bear), 4th Region ROTC; 35 members from the Electronic Data Systems section of the Defense Manpower Data Center, several members from Army Community Service and local teenagers.

Volunteers for the Better Opportunities for Single Service Members cleaned up Asilomar State Beach. Other DLIFLC students and staff from different services spruced up the Presidio by the Recreation Center, the running track by the post exchange, the cemetery and the lower Presidio. Other volunteer efforts included a canned food drive and baby-sitting services, mentioned Matthews.

All volunteers received recognition later that day at a luncheon in the dining facility of the former Fort Ord hospital. Col. Peter Dausen, Presidio garrison commander, and Seaside Mayor Don Jordan thanked the volunteers for making a difference.

DLI teams place 10th in Army 10-Miler

By Sgt. 1st Class Linda Kessinger

Congratulations to the Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center and Presidio of Monterey 10-miler running teams. The Institute sent two teams to Washington, D.C., to run the Army 10-Miler on Oct. 11. Team 1 finished 10th and team 2 finished 19th out of 105 Active Duty Mixed Teams. Other categories included male and female individuals, and male and female teams from either the Active Army or Reserve Components.

This event marked the second time the Institute and Presidio competed in this annual run around Washington. More than 14,000 military and civilian runners ran the scenic course from the Pentagon, along the Potomac River and back to the starting point. This is the largest 10-mile run in the country, especially for the number of participants. Members of the local chapter of the Association of the United States Army supported the group and held events to defray expenses for the soldiers. The local chapter provided funds for the uniforms and the $20 entry fee per person. Garrison arranged for and funded the roundtrip plane fare. DLI-Washington supported the teams with a military vehicle and accommodations at Oakwood Apartments in Alexandria, Va.

"Racing out there in D.C. and representing DLI really filled me with a sense of pride for the U.S. Army and DLI. I felt very patriotic, and racing with so many of my fellow soldiers was a real rush," said Pfc Mandy Jensen from A Company, 229th Military Intelligence Battalion.

"Representing DLIFLC in the Army 10-miler is something I wanted to do once I heard about the race and to get the chance to do that made it possible for me to fulfill a personal dream and goal. The race was incredible and I am proud to be a U.S. soldier. Washington was beautiful; our whole history is remembered there from the making of the Declaration of Independence to today. It was incredible to have a chance to see the sights and museums. And to see that part of the United States history, makes me proud to be in the Army," said Pfc. Angelo Hultengren, B Company, 229th MI Bn. Other team members included Spc. Kevin McGwin and Pfc. Delmar McPherson from A Company, Pfc. Joshua Black from B Company, Capt. Michael Morton from D Company, Maj. Kathleen Cannon from E Company, Sgt. 1st Class Daniel Kessinger from HHC, and Sgt. Robert Mendez from DFAS.

Male runners posted the following times in hours and minutes: McPherson, 59:10; McGwin, 1:01; Black, 1:02; Morton, 1:02, Mendez, 1:09; and Kessinger D., 1:16. For the women, Jensen ran the course in 1:17; Kessinger L., 1:21, Hultengren, 1:22 and Cannon, 1:26.

About 50 runners from the Presidio of Monterey competed during trials Aug. 1, but only the six fastest males and four females qualified for the team representing the Institute.

"A big thanks goes out to Lt. Col. Griffith Hughes and Master Sgt. Mitchell Robinson from DLI-Washington. Their support was great again this year. A special thanks also goes out to Beverly from Oakwood Apartments. The competition was great this year and hopefully will be even better next year. I hope DLI supports the race again next year," said SFC Daniel Kessinger.

Greet Troops Overseas Via Dear Abby Holiday Card/Letter Drive Nov. 15-Jan. 15

(See Page 28 for overseas addresses) WASHINGTON (AFPN) — Operation Dear Abby, nationally syndicated columnist Abigal Van Buren's annual drive for holiday cards and letters to service members stationed overseas, begins Nov. 15. The Military Postal Service Agency has identified five addresses for use for the 1998 holiday season.

Locations include: South America, Central America and the Caribbean / the Far East / Europe and Southwest Asia/and the Pacific Basin. MPSA targets major U.S. military aerial mail terminals and fleet mail centers overseas. The mail hubs receive the mail and distribute on a "fair share" basis to all services across the board.

Addresses other than these will not determine distribution. For example: a letter addressed to a soldier may be distributed to an airman, soldier, sailor or Marine. The addresses will be open through Jan. 15. The U.S. Postal Service will not accept mail at these addresses after Jan 15. All mail for Operation Dear Abby is limited to first class, 11 ounces or less only.

Scholarship Scam Alert

Every year there are several scams based on imitations of legitimate foundations, scholarship sponsors, lenders, and scholarship search companies.

They may even have official-sounding names, using such works as "National," "Federal," "Federation," "Division," "Foundation," and "Administration" to fool unwary students and parents into thinking that they are federal agencies or grant-giving foundations.

Hundreds of thousands of victims lose tens of millions of dollars to scholarship scams every year.

How to identify scholarship scams, how to distinguish between legitimate and fraudulent organizations, how to protect yourself from scholarship scams and what to do if you are scammed are questions answered on the DoD education web site at http://voled.doded.mil

Service Members Throwing Money Away Again

Better late than never! Time to start calculating your federal income tax withholding. Despite the thrill of receiving a large federal tax refund, the reality of a large refund is that the taxpayer most likely inaccurately computed the withholding of taxes, if any computing was done at all.

Taxpayers can have more money in their paycheck each month by carefully reviewing their withholding allowances on an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Form W-4. A large refund, on the other hand, is equivalent to giving an interest free loan for 12 to 18 months.

Federal tax refunds ought to be higher for many taxpayers in the military community due to the new child tax credit if they do not adjust their withholding allowances. For 1998, the new child tax credit is $400 for each eligible dependent under the age of 17. In 1999, this credit will increase to $500 per child.

The child tax credit generally cannot be more than the tax liability. This means that it can reduce a taxpayer's income tax to zero, but cannot result in a refund. Exceptions exist for taxpayers who have three or more qualifying children or who claim the earned income credit. For those taxpayers a portion of the credit may be refunded.

As is the case with dependency exemptions, no child care credit is allowed for a child for a tax year unless the taxpayer includes the child's name and social security number on the return for the year. To be a qualifying child for the credit, the child must be a natural child, stepchild, grandchild or eligible foster child that is under age 17. The child must be a U.S. citizen and can be claimed for federal income tax purposes as a dependent.

Members of the military community who benefit from this new tax credit should consider changing their withholding. IRS Publication 919 entitled "Is my Withholding Correct for 1998?," explains how to analyze and factor in the benefits of the new child tax credit when adjusting withholding.

It also includes a Form W-4 that can be submitted to the local military finance office to change the amount of tax withholding and worksheets to help taxpayers to correctly determine the tax effect of the new credit. IRS forms and publications may be downloaded through the Staff Judge Advocate Website at http://pom-www.army.mil/w3-atzp-ja-la.

Military families can reap an early benefit from the new child tax credit and add money to their paychecks by filing a new Form W-4. (Submitted by SJA Legal Assistance. Adapted from an article published in the September 1998 Army Lawyer)

Helping Victims of Hurricane Mitch; Monterey County Residents, Businesses and Red Cross Team Up

MONTEREY - Thursday, Nov. 5, 1998 -- The Monterey County Chapter of the American Red Cross would like to acknowledge and thank those who are supporting Red Cross relief efforts in the wake of Hurricane Mitch. The devastation has galvanized the community's desire to help victims by offering support to the local Red Cross relief effort. Local businesses and individuals are stepping forward to offer monetary support to those affected by the disaster. "We can't thank the community enough for supporting the relief efforts of the American Red Cross," said Monterey County Chapter Executive Director, Paula Herrera. "And we want to assure you that funds that are collected for disaster victims of Hurricane Mitch will go to help those in need," she said.

Gambetta Middle School in Castroville and Greenfield Elementary are making donation boxes available to students and families with a desire to help disaster victims. The Western Union office on Alisal Street, Salinas, has organized an employees campaign and is making donation boxes available to the public. The Monterey Plaza Hotel has also organized an employee campaign, and the company will match funds raised to assist those affected by Hurricane Mitch. "Thank you all so much for making our work a little easier," said Herrera. "We rely on the generosity of the community to help disaster victims and assure you that the very best way to help is to make a monetary contribution to your local Red Cross."

All American Red Cross disaster assistance is free made possible by the generosity of time and money from the American people. To help victims of Hurricane Mitch and other international crises, you may make a credit card donation to the International Response Fund securely online by visiting www.redcross.org or by calling 1-800-HELP NOW (435-7669) or 1-800-257-7575 (Spanish). Or you may send your donation to the Monterey County Red Cross, 942-Lupin Drive, Salinas, 93906, your local Red Cross Chapter, or to the American Red Cross, P.O. Box 37243, Washington, D.C., 20013.

Local Red Cross office mailing addresses and telephone numbers are:

Monterey - P.O. Box 853, Monterey, CA 93942-0853 (831) 375-5730 or fax (831) 424-5069

Salinas - 942 Lupin Drive, Salinas, CA 93906-3996 (831) 424-4824 or fax (831) 424-5069

Also visit the following web site: www.redcross.org/ca/mlyca or write to E-mail address: mocoarc@crossnet.org

Please note: Across the Central Coast, American Red Cross Chapters are accepting financial donations only. The American Red Cross does not accept donated goods because the organization simply does not have the resources to sort through items that people would contribute and determine what is suitable for victims.

Louisana Tax Amnesty

Louisana launches a tax amnesty until Dec. 31. Taxpayers who qualify may pay back taxes and interest without fear of penalty or prosecution. The program, the state's third since the mid-1980s, "recognizes that nobody's perfect," says revenue secretary John Kennedy. "Many times, people get behind in their taxes for reasons beyond their control." Amnesty gives them "a second chance." The Louisiana Revenue and tax Department (http://www/rev.state.la.us/) can be accessed through the Staff Judge Advocate Web Page (http://pom-www.army.mil/w3-atzp/ja/la) for more information. Just scroll down to the Tax heading. (Submitted by SJA Legal Assistance from an article published in the Sept. 30, 1998, Wall Street Journal)

Dedicated to military families

It's Hard to Put into Words

By Helen Packard

It's hard to put into words the loneliness you feel when your military spouse is away on exercises, there is no family locally for support, and you need a shoulder to cry on.

It's hard to put into words the sadness you feel when your military spouse is deployed and cannot share the joy in the birth of your baby, the breakthrough of the first tooth, or the excitement of the first walking steps.

It's hard to put into words the frustration you feel at the sight of a bad move, when your great grandmother's rocking chair arrives in pieces like a puzzle, when you arrive after school has started and your child's health and previous school records are somehow incomplete and missing information, when you try to find a decent doctor and dentist, reliable and safe drop-in care, a good vet, and even better dry cleaners.

On the other hand, it's hard to measure in words the honor and respect you feel when your spouse receives a commendation for a "job well done."

It's hard to measure in words when you work as a military volunteer, making a difference or solving a problem in another military family's life.

It's hard to measure in words the exciting, adventurous spirit shared in the family when going on an anticipated overseas tour.

It's hard to measure in words the bonds of friendship that form, last, and survive the turbulence of moves and the tests of time.

But most of all, it's hard to measure the extreme pride you feel knowing that your military spouse has made a commitment, and with the bravest of all acts, and the supreme of all sacrifices, to fight for and protect the freedom that we know today.

Thanksgiving Day 1998 Joint Message from...

...the Honorable Louis Caldera, Secretary of the Army, and General Dennis J. Reimer, Army Chief of Staff

At this time of Thanksgiving, when many are able to pause from their busy lives to enjoy a day of rest, relaxation, and fellowship with family and friends, we also reflect on the contributions of the soldiers in America's Army.

On that first Thanksgiving long ago, the European Pilgrims gave thanks for the bounty of the new world where they sought freedom from tyranny and religious persecution. It would be more than 150 years before their descendents, the soldiers of the Colonial Army, fought a war to establish a free nation. Throughout our history since that time, you, the heirs of those early soldiers, have maintained the rights we enjoy as American citizens. In your oath to uphold and defend the constitution, you literally put your lives on the line for freedom.

Today, freedom-seeking people all over the world enjoy the benefits of your selfless service. At this time, about 20,000 of you are away from your families, serving in more than 80 countries. Far from the comforts and joys of your Thanksgiving tables at home, you are deployed in Europe, the Middle East, Africa, Asia, and Latin America. We give you thanks, and a grateful nation gives you thanks. We who lead the total Army team understand the cost of the benefits in human terms which you provide the citizens of our land.

You, our soldiers, are the nation's insurance policy. It is you who ensure the liberty and opportunity we enjoy in this great nation.

We are proud of all of you on our total Army team of active duty soldiers, Army Reserve, Army National Guard, and Army civilians. It is our great privilege to serve with you and to lead you. We wish each of you and your families a happy, healthy, and safe Thanksgiving.

Holiday card drive begins Nov. 15 through Jan. 15

WASHINGTON (AFPN) — Operation Dear Abby, nationally syndicated columnist Abigal Van Buren's annual drive for holiday cards and letters to service members stationed overseas, begins Nov. 15.

The Military Postal Service Agency has identified five addresses for use for the 1998 holiday season. MPSA targets major U.S. military aerial mail terminals and fleet mail centers overseas. The mail hubs receive the mail and distribute on a "fair share" basis to all services across the board.

Addresses other than these will not determine distribution. For example: a letter addressed to a soldier may be distributed to an airman, soldier, sailor or Marine.

The addresses will be open through Jan. 15. The U.S. Postal Service will not accept mail at these addresses after Jan 15. All mail for Operation Dear Abby is limited to first class, 11 ounces or less only.

Domestic Violence... The Crisis Behind Closed Doors

Why do people who are nonviolent outside the home become violent inside it? Maybe because our society expects it to occur and tolerates it – so long as it "doesn't go too far." Sad, but true, in many homes, the violence does go "too far."

Though October is "Domestic Violence Awareness" month, this issue is a concern year around. I wanted to use this opportunity to share this valuable information with you. More specifically I wanted you to understand the different forms of "Domestic Abuse."

Physical Abuse - Includes punching, pulling hair, slapping, biting, kicking, twisting arms, throwing victims against walls and furniture, and throwing objects at them. A substantial number of victims are threatened or assaulted with weapons such as knives, firearms, and axes.

Sexual Abuse - Includes any unwanted sexual contact.

Verbal Abuse - Consists of derogatory comments, such as constant put-downs and comments about being inferior, unattractive or incompetent, threats of physical violence and violent verbal outbursts.

Psychological/Emotional Abuse - Occurs when one partner deliberately misuses the psychological or emotional factors in a relationship, and the power which they give, in order to manipulate and intimidate the other partner.

Spiritual Abuse - Describes the damage violence does to the spirit of those who have been abused. It often involves the shame experience when everyone in the community is aware of the violence and when they, too, are implicated as victims of the violence.

Economic Abuse - Involves control of the use and availability of money, preventing one partner from taking a job outside the home or participating in decisions about how money is spent, and refusing that person money for basic household necessities such as food and clothing.

Social Abuse - Is the constant monitoring and control of a person's activities, outings and friendships. May be forced to account for every movement and may be denied the right to leave the home and/or see their friends.

In most cases these different forms of domestic violence are linked. Physical assault is frequently accompanied or preceded by verbal abuse and psychological assault, and often followed by coerced sex. The various forms of spouse abuse combine to effectively trap and control the victim in a position of powerlessness.

Let's Talk Stats...

- 1.) In some American Cities, three out of five calls made to the police at night are domestic disturbances. Tragically, some calls are never made.
- 2.) About one in three murders is committed by one family member against another.
- 3.) Every 15 seconds a woman is battered.
- 4.) Abuse at home is the single most common cause of injury to women. It is more common than car accidents, muggings, and rape combined.
- 5.) A female victim is assaulted an average of seven to 10 times before she seeks assistance.
- 6.) Approximately 90 percent of children in violent homes see violence directed at their mothers.

If you, a family member, friend or neighbor are a victim of domestic abuse, then DON'T WAIT to get help. If you are in danger, call 9-1-1. To report a domestic violence assault which occurred on this installation, call the Presidio of Monterey Police Department, at 242-7851/7852. For more information on how you can stop the cycle of domestic abuse, call Detective Dedra Thomas at 242-7871.

Post Veterinarian - call 242-7718 Adopt-a-Pet Update

Adoptable dogs and cats are available at the Veterinarian Clinic, Building 4380, Parker Flats Road, POM Annex. All the pets need a good home and loving care. Veterinarian fees ($27 for cats and $29 for dogs) include rabies and booster shots. Thinking of getting a pet? Make the Veterinarian Clinic your first stop.

Clinic Day services provided are: adoptions, vaccinations, minor sick call, health certificates, limited diagnosis, base registration (no emergency or surgical services)

Wed: Temporarily Closed

Thurs & Fri: 8 a.m.-noon / 1:30-3 p.m.

Pets waiting for adoption

(Call 242-7718)

(as of Nov. 8.)

KITTENS - (2 siblings) light gray color, age 5 weeks.

Abandoned / lost animals:

Call the Installation Animal Control Officer at 242-7851. Consider pets as your children. They have feelings too if ignored or abandoned. Take care.

Post Veterinarian Encourages Avid Microchip

A simple injection means a lifetime of protection for your animal.

Statistics show one out of three family pets will be lost. Unfortunately, only 10 percent of lost pets are identified. With the Microchip program, a scanner is used to retrieve your pet's I.D. number immediately. The I.D. number is entered into a computer where an extensive database matches the I.D. number with pertinent information about you, the owner. What this means is a quicker reunion with your lost pet and reduced chances he will be taken to the pound or animal shelter. Veterinarians agree that the Avid Microchip is the identification method of choice. A simple and safe injection gives your pet permanent identification.

For details, ask your veterinarian (242-7718), or call 1-800-336-AVID

Pet Immunizations Recommended

Rabies: Feline & Canine: Initial vaccination at 4 months (16 weeks). Animals vaccinated under 12 months of age need to be re-vaccinated in one year. Re-vaccination is required every 3 years for dogs and cats.

Canine Distemper, Hepatitis Parainfluenza/Letospirosis, Parvo Virus & Corona Virus: 1st Inoculation...6 to 8 weeks of age; 2nd Inoculation...12 weeks of age; 3rd Inoculation...16 weeks of age. Revaccination is recommended yearly.

Feline Distemper, Calici Virus, Rhinotracheitis & Chlamydia: 1st Inoculation...6 to 8 weeks of age; 2nd Inoculation...12 weeks of age; 3rd Inoculation...16 weeks of age. Re-vaccination is recommended yearly.

Thanksgiving Food Basket Collection Boxes

During the next two weeks, on Thursdays or Fridays, the Chaplain staff will pick up donated food from the 25 food collection boxes (orange color) located throughout the Presidio and POM Annex. Locations include the commissary, PXs, and major directorates, and each of the military orderly rooms. (Military members wishing to contribute monetary donations should be give the donations to their first sergeants, and DoD civilians should contact the Chaplains Office.

The last pick up day will be Nov. 23. Food should be nonperishable and traditional food used for Thanksgiving meals.

Food can also be taken directly to the POM Annex Chapel (see the Post Chaplain secretary, Inge Ruddell (242-7620).

For more information, call Spec. Tina Wiberg at 242-5281, or Project Officer, Chaplain Stroop at 242-7330 or 242-7009.

Featuring...

(Provided by the Presidio of Monterey Army Health Clinic, this information provides a general overview on warts and may not apply to everyone. Talk to your doctor to find out if this information applies to you and to get more information on this subject.)

WARTS do multiply

What causes warts?

Warts are a type of infection caused by viruses in the human papillomavirus - HPV family. There are at least 60 types of HPV viruses. Warts can grow on all parts of your body. They can grow on your skin, on the inside of your mouth, on your genitals and on your rectal area. Some types of HPV tend to cause warts on the skin, while other HPV types tend to cause warts on the genitals and rectal area. Some people are more naturally resistant to the HPV viruses and don't seem to get warts as easily as other people.

How Warts Are Removed by Freezing Them

Your wart can be removed without hurting the skin around it by using a two-step treatment. The first step is getting your wart ready to be removed. You can help with this first step. The second step is cryosurgery (freezing the wart), which will be done by your doctor in his or her office. You may need to have several freezing treatments before the wart is completely removed.

Getting the wart ready for removal requires you to do some things on your own at home. Doing these things before you come to the office can reduce the number of times you need to come in to have the wart treated by freezing it. You should do the following steps:

- 1. Every night for two weeks, clean the wart with soap and water and put some 17 percent salicylic acid (Compound W) on it.
- 2. Cover the wart with a piece of 40 percent salicylic acid pad (Mediplast). Cut the pad so that it is a little bit bigger than the wart. The pad has a sticky backing that will help it stay on the wart.
 - 3. Leave the pad on the wart for 24 hours. If the area becomes very sore or red, stop using the gel and pad and call your doctor's office.
- 4. After you take the pad off, clean the area with soap and water, put more gel on the wart and put on another pad. If you are very active during the day and the pad moves off the wart, you can leave the area uncovered during the day and wear the pad just at night.

After two weeks of this treatment, your wart will have turned white and will look fluffy. Your doctor will then be able to remove the white skin layer covering the wart and use cryosurgery to freeze the base (root) of the wart. Tell your doctor before cryosurgery if your skin reacts strongly to cold.

Cryosurgery can be uncomfortable, but it usually doesn't hurt much. The freezing is somewhat numbing. When your doctor places the instrument on your skin to freeze the wart, it will feel like an ice cube is stuck to your skin. Afterward, you may feel a burning sensation as your skin thaws out.

Healing after cryosurgery is usually quick. You will probably be able to enjoy all your usual activities while you heal, including swimming and bathing. Cryosurgery leaves little or no scar. After the area has healed, the treated skin may be a bit lighter in color than the skin around it.

Tai Chi Offered Year Around

Your choice of two different styles of Tai Chi

POM - A choice of two separate Tai Chi classes is being offered at Price Fitness Center (Building 842), Presidio of Monterey. Join Tai Chi Instructor Leonard Han twice a week for either Course I: "Traditional Chen Family Taijiquan Gong Fu Frame," or Course II: "Tai Chi Chi Kung I" - a shortYang style energy form. Han, the 59th Rumen Dizhi ("Indoor Disciple"), of Grandmaster Chen Qingzhou (19th generation direct descendent/successor of Chen Family Taijiquan), is also a Certified Instructor of the International Healing Tao - Taoist approach to healing and self-transformation brought to American by Master Mantak Chia.

Course I Description: Traditional Chen Family Taijiquan Gong Fu Frame -meets Monday and Wednesday from 5 to 6:30 p.m. This style is characterized by a balance of "softness and hardness" of energy, mostly absent in the practice of other styles of Taijiquan (Tai Chi). It is particularly well suited to people desiring to develop physical fitness, relaxation and concentration. Course II Description: Tai Chi Chi Kung I (Short Yang Style Energy Form) - meets Thursdays from 6:30 to 8 p.m. only at this time - this a simple yet powerful early form of Yang style Tai Chi, which teaches the principles of body mechanics through the alignment of the bone structure with the force of gravity. The cost: for either Tai Chi course the cost is $60 (every 4 weeks) or $15 per class for walkins. Private lessons are available for $35. Pre-register and pay at the Price Fitness Center desk, or arrive early to register before the beginning of your first class. What to bring/wear: Wear loose fitting clothes (i.e. no Levi's or belts) and preferably flat-soled tennis shoes, and bring a combination lock for use of a locker to secure any valuables (i.e. purse, wallet, bags). To register: Call 242-5641 (Price Fitness Center). For more information about either Tai Chi course, call 373-4208.

Red Cross to open central message centers

By Gerry J. Gilmore

WASHINGTON (Army News Service, Oct. 23, 1998) - The American Red Cross is using new information technology to modernize its U.S. emergency messaging capability and improve service to military members and their families.

"We're taking the emergency communications work currently provided at 145 CONUS military installations, and consolidating it into two Armed Forces Emergency Service Centers," said Sue A. Richter, vice president of the Red Cross Armed Forces Emergency Services. "We're going to be using toll-free numbers, because most of our assistance is provided by phone."

The first center opens Nov. 16 at Red Cross headquarters in Falls Church, Va. The second one opens next year at Fort Sill, Okla., in June 1999. Both centers will use the latest in call-center technology, computers and software to process and document the casework. Customers will be quickly connected to trained caseworkers that are available around-the-clock," Richter said.

"It'll be one, consolidated system for military or family members who need to contact the Red Cross," Richter said. "Let's say a servicemember is deployed to Bosnia, with a wife or husband living in the states on or near a military installation. The spouse with a message would use a toll-free number to call directly into one of the centers to talk to a Red Cross caseworker. The caseworker would gather and verify information provided by the spouse.

"We'd forward messages such as requests for a service member to come home on emergency leave, or to notify a service member of an emergency situation at home. Sometimes, we'll deliver happy news, [such as] the arrival of a new son or daughter," she said.

The Red Cross Board of Governors approved the modernization program in February 1997, said Ben Moore, project coordinator for the AFES modernization program. Moore noted that volunteers and employees at 1,300 Red Cross chapters in the U.S., many adjacent to military installations, would ensure the delivery of all other Red Cross services on the installations. About 45,000 Red Cross volunteers work on U.S. military installations across the globe.

"Our goal is for no one to fall through the cracks," Moore said. "Once we get the service on line, it doesn't matter where in the U.S. the service member or his or her family is. We're looking to implement the system worldwide. We're working very closely with authorities at Fort Sill. The center there will be colocated with the Army Community Service office. We've included databases at the centers for points of contact with doctors and names and phone numbers of units and key personnel at each military installation we're working with. When we bring up the Fort Sill center, we will work with the Defense Information Systems Agency, to use the Defense Messaging System."

Information technology will enable the Red Cross to consolidate the delivery of emergency services at military installations, while other essential services will continue to be offered locally, Richter said.

"While we're consolidating [the centers], there is still a large Red Cross volunteer program on military installations, [to include] disaster services, health and safety, military hospitals, and other important programs," she said.

The Red Cross, Richter said, is "a non-profit organization chartered by Congress in 1905 to assist military families. We work in partnership with the military and the Department of Defense to deliver those services."

"Everywhere the military goes, we go," Moore said, noting there are Red Cross representatives in Bosnia with U.S. troops and 69 Red Cross overseas offices.

Clara Barton, who founded the Red Cross, helped to provide communications links between soldiers and loved ones during the Civil War, Moore said.

"As a nurse during the Civil War, Clara Barton volunteered to work with wounded soldiers from both sides, recruited nurses to tend to battlefield casualties, and wrote letters to soldiers' families," Richter said. "The need is the same today; families back home need to know what is happening with service members, and service members need to know what is happening back home."

When military members call in, the centers will provide emergency message service, and access to loans and grants "in a partnership with military aid societies like Army Emergency Relief, Navy/Marine Corps Relief, and Air Force Aid," Moore said.

One hundred years ago, more than 30 years after the end of the Civil War, the indefatigable Clara Barton took her nurses with her to Cuba during the Spanish American War, Richter said.

"Her wire from Havana back to Washington at the time was, 'I am with the wounded," she said. "Today's Red Cross theme, 'We'll Be There,' is as true today as it was in Barton's time."
